

THEFT SUSPECT IS HELD FOR CRIME IN CENTERVILLE

A former janitor at Kleine's Cocktail Lounge in Centerville is being held by police on the charge that early Sunday morning he broke through the front door and robbed the liquor establishment of about $1200.

Max H. Brannon, 32, is being held in custody by police in Omaha, Neb., after being traced to that city by the county sheriff's office.

The sheriff found that the burglar had gained entry by breaking the small window in the front door and turning the inside latch. The loot, in cash and checks, had been taken from the cash register, safe, and a music box.

With a warrant for Brannon's arrest, issued Monday by Judge Allen G. Norris, the sheriff's office wired ahead for the suspect. On Sunday, Brannon had been traced to a San Jose bus depot, where he had purchased a ticket for Chicago.

When Brannon's flight was interrupted at Omaha last Tuesday, Nebraska police found on his person $138 in cash, 14 checks, and a watch also listed in the warrant for arrest.

Brannon will be extradited to the township by the county sheriff, and arraigned in the Centerville justice court.

PLEA OF GUILTY TO WATCH THEFT MADE BY VARGAS

Matt Vargas, 53, of Niles, last Friday changed his plea to guilty when he appeared before Judge Joseph A. Silva to answer the charge of theft of a watch from a dead man.

Vargas was given a probationary sentence of one year, with the stipulation that during this time he make a report of good conduct once a month at the local court.

The defendant had entered the plea of not guilty when he first appeared in court on March 22, to answer the complaint of Leon Orcutt of Niles. The stolen property was in the possession of the late Henry John Orcutt.

UNHAPPY BEES FIND A HOME AT LAST

No longer will Dr. H. R. Barton, Niles chiropractor, have to worry about the bees living in his walls. A couple of weeks ago he frantically phoned The Register office entreating us to "please, please find someone who would like a swarm of bees; they're driving me out of my home!"

The Register, always willing to accommodate, obliged by writing a little story about the bees who were the unwanted guests of Dr. Barton.

Mr. Sloniker, of Niles Canyon, read the story and hastened down to Dr. Barton's with the proper equipment for going bee-hunting. The two men, garbed in headgear and gloves, cut off three boards from the wall, smoked the bees into a lethargic state, and then Mr. Sloniker scooped them up to take home to put in his hives.

So now everybody is happy—Dr. Barton because there will no longer be any buzzing in his ears; Mr. Sloniker, who has a whole new swarm of bees; and the bees, because they are at last living in a home that has the "welcome" mat on the door.

CENTERVILLE WILL STUDY SCHOOL BUS SITUATION

Centerville Elementary School Board of Trustees, in cooperation with a committee from the Centerville P.T.A., is studying the possibility of bus transportation for the students of the school.

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening, April 17, at which time the need for a school bus was discussed. Presentation of a survey showing distances students live from the school was made. Figures on size and cost of a bus were presented.

The board and the committee have decided to continue their study and to collect additional information regarding the operation of a school bus.

The ladies on the P.T.A. committee are Mrs. Henry P. Dias, Mrs. Clarence George, Mrs. Claremont Oliveira, Mrs. Elsie Amaral, Mrs. K. P. Suhnel and Mrs. Margaret Nunes.

Members of the Centerville School Board of Trustees are Manuel Alveira, Ernie Sabina and Judge Allen G. Norris.

LOCAL TEAM LOOKS GOOD IN PRACTICE

"They look like league winners to me," said Manager Ralph Chapman of Westvaco's chances in the Washington Township Softball League race that begins May 20.

No score was kept in the practice game with Woodmen of the World last Sunday, but Chapman made his league prediction from his team's showing.

While the starting lineup is still tentative, Chapman this week announced the following players and positions: Lawrence Avilla and Warren Miller, pitchers; Joseph Oliveria, catcher; Philip E. Brazil, first base; Robert Mattos, Ralph Chapman, Moses Oliveira and Joseph Seone, infielders; John Semos, Jack Misener and Thomas Fenn, outfielders.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR NILES P.T.A.

A special meeting of the Niles P.T.A. has been called by acting-president, Mrs. Francis Mara, for next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The Niles P.T.A. has reached a crucial period in its more-than-twenty-year-old career, as, to date, no one has been found who will accept the presidency for the next school year.

Open discussion will be held at this meeting to decide whether the P.T.A. should be dropped because of lack of interest and—as some have suggested—a Mothers Club formed, or whether some mother can be persuaded to be "drafted" so that the P.T.A. may continue. Not only P.T.A. members (including fathers) are invited to attend this important meeting, but any interested outsiders are welcome.

NILES HORSE WINS RACE AT BAY MEADOWS

IT'S A GRAND DAY FOR NILES AT BAY MEADOWS

"They're off!"
It's last Monday's second race at Bay Meadows.

Niles is following Don o' War, owned by Ted Econome of the Peerless Grill in Niles.

A close pack at the start of the six furlongs makes the Niles favorite buck and rear. Jockey Robinson is quick in there to steady him right along.

Don o' War falls back to seventh place. Responding to expert handling, the sleek chestnut pride-and-joy, breaks clear of the pack at the stretch turn.

The jockey puts on the pressure. Don o' War is picking it up . . . he's in sixth . . . into fifth . . . fourth.

More coaxing and he breaks into third place!
Can he win? Mrs. Econome is on her feet calling on Don o' War, waving her hands, stamping her feet.

He's moving with the best of them now, after coming up from a bad start. The crowds are cheering. Don o' War keeps up his strong stride. For a brief moment he's having it out with number two (Continued on page 8)

W. GEORGE WINS 1946 CHEVROLET IN EAGLES RAFFLE

Most of the Eagles and their friends turned out last night to witness the raffle of a 1946 Chevrolet at the Niles Theater.

Walter George of Irvington, 22 and World War 11 veteran, was the lucky winner.

E. A. Quaresma of Niles, master of ceremonies, introduced Eagle President Jack Holland, who explained that proceeds from the raffle would go into a building fund for the Alvarado Aerie of Eagles.

Assisting Manuel Rose of Niles, chairman of the Raffle committee, as judges were Holland and L. R. Batman.

SHOEMAKER BOYS HAVE PAJAMAS MENED

The boys at Shoemaker Hospital who have been worrying about the rips in their pajamas and the threadbare spots in their afghans and blankets, now need to worry no longer.

Last week the Past Presidents of the Country Club of Washington Township, meeting at the home of Mrs. F. V. Jones, mended a huge basket of the items mentioned above that were brought to them by the Red Cross through the efforts of Mrs. Fritz Waltenberger.

IRVINGTON PLANS SEWAGE PLANT

The Irvington Sanitary District is preparing to meet the new state standards on the disposal of sewage in the bay waters, according to a statement this week from R. J. Wright, secretary of the sanitary board.

Roy Edwin Ramseir, sanitary engineer of Oakland, was recently instructed by the board to make a study of the costs of a sewage processing plant.

Present sewage disposal facilities are inadequate, says a resolution adopted by the state board of public health on March 11. The resolution further states that permits for disposal of untreated sewage, under which system the Irvington Sanitary District now operates, will be revoked January 1 next year.

Building of a processing plant will meet the requirements of the health board's resolution, according to Wright.

FREMONT PRINCIPAL IS ROTARIAN SPEAKER

Dr. Rex G. Turner, principal of Fremont High School in Oakland, was the guest speaker of the Niles Rotary Club at their regular Thursday meeting at the International Kitchen.

A Message to the Parents of Niles

EDITORIAL

The minutes of monthly meetings of the board of trustees of the Niles Elementary School District are uniformly similar in one respect: They record that Joe Gomes and Jack Alberg were present, that Harry Tyson was absent, and that certain bills were paid. They do not record a perusal of the goal of better education for Niles children; not, that we could find, in a single instance.

We favor the election on May 17 of Will Lamoreux, a man of exceptional education, a former educator, a scientist with the Kimber Poultry Breeding Farms, the father of two children attending the Niles school, and a man who realizes that a school must be either progressive or stagnant.

Typical of the Niles school board's laxity is the example of its delay in accepting the federal school lunch subsidy which was set up nationally in 1943. Under this plan, the federal government pays 9 cents per meal per pupil for school lunches. By not accepting the subsidy plan until the first part of last year, the Niles school board lost to the children of this district at least $3,000 to which they were entitled.

In the curriculum of the Niles school there are certain deficiencies which we believe should have been getting the attention of the school board. We believe that had a man like Lamoreux been on that board they would now be in process of correction.

For example, there is available to county elementary schools, through the superintendent's office, instruction in instrumental music. Some of the township schools have availed their pupils of this instruction. But the Niles school has not. The board has not considered the subject.

There is also the matter of the need for a kindergarten. A number of parents want a kindergarten. Perhaps it is possible to have one, perhaps not. But periodically the board should study this need and, even though a kindergarten might not be advisable now, it should look ahead to the time when it will be advisable.

And there is the question of whether or not handicraft courses in manual training for boys should be given at the school. Practically every city school of the size of the Niles school gives this training. It should be under consideration by the Niles school board, yet it is apparent in the minutes of our school trustees that it has not been considered.

Education is not a static thing. The operation of a school in a growing community must engage the constant attention of its trustees in curricular improvement. Will Lamoreux is a man with a background eminently suited for sound guidance of an educational institution.

We do not wish to leave our readers in the opinion that we believe that the board of trustees of the Niles school have acted wrongly in their administration of the school. Our criticism is not in what has been done, but rather in what has not been done.

Jack Alberg, who is opposing Lamoreux for the post of trustee, is a fine man of highest integrity. He is interested in the school and its children. Thanks in great part to him, the Niles school is one of the finest appearing that we have ever seen. It has a beautiful building and well-kept grounds.

But in the classrooms are our children getting the most complete grammar school education that we can provide for them?

We think not. We think that new, vigorous blood is needed in our school board. We know of no man who can do a better service to our school district than Will Lamoreux.

COUNTRY CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS NEXT TUESDAY

"Who's going to be the next president?"

That is always a moot question in any organization, and the Country Club of Washington Township is no exception. Next Tuesday, at the regular monthly meeting, new officers will be nominated, elected, and installed for the ensuing year.

The meeting will be devoted entirely to the business of installing officers, and committee reports, with no other diversions except for the serving of tea at the close of the business session. The luncheon committee will have charge of the tea.

JACQUELINE LEWIS CHOSEN FOR GIRLS' STATE WEEK

Miss Jacquelyn Lewis, junior student at Washington Union High School, was chosen this week to represent the high school at Girls' State in Sacramento from June 12 to June 19. She is being sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary Unit 195, who will pay her expenses.

Miss Lewis, chosen by dean of girls, Miss Grace Knoles, and Mr. Irving Hird, and all the advisors of the junior class because of her scholarship, citizenship, speaking ability, and personality, will be one of many girls from all over the state to take part in Girls' State, the purpose of which is the training of girls for better citizenship by acquainting them with the government.

The girls will be divided into 20 groups, with each group assigned to represent and make a study of a city in California. The girls will also be escorted through the capital and state offices.

It is the first time that a local girl has participated in Girls' State, and the high school and Miss Lewis' friends will be looking forward to hearing a first-hand account from her about the exciting time she will no doubt have in our state's capital.

'COT FESTIVAL WILL BE DECKED WITH BANNERS

"The banners and streamers will have all the color of the gay costumes of the queen contestants," quipped Publicity Chairman Gus Robertson this week.

Main street in Irvington, the school grounds, and store windows—all, will be decorated for the Apricot Festival. An Oakland decorating firm will do the work, according to Robertson.

The festival committee was also concerned about things like hot dogs, soda pop, and popcorn. This week the whole problem was turned over to Jack Holland and Tony Alameda of Centerville, who will arrange for the refreshments.

All contestants will soon have their pictures taken for display in the Niles Theater lobby, according to Ed Rose.

This week's returns on ticket sales shows the following changes: Dorothy Amaral and Ellen Hall, Irvington, with 8800 and 7700 votes respectively; Betty Brandt, Centerville, 6600 votes; Betty Silva of Alvarado, Virginia Felecanio of Decoto, Yvonne Calderia of Newark, are fourth with 2200 votes. Six girls have 1100 votes: Betty Allender, Vivian King, Irvington; Jan Strano, Newark; Hope Saucedo, Alvarado; Patricia Mendonca, Niles; and Annabel Vargas, Warm Springs.

TWENTY MORE LIGHTS ON AGENDA FOR DECOTO

A. J. Petsche of the local P.G. & E. office announced this week that he had received an order from Supervisor Chester E. Stanley for the installation of 20 more lights in Decoto. This will be good news for Decotans who are frequently heard to raise the cry, "More lights!"

RECEIVE DISCHARGES

The following are township veterans who recently received their honorable discharges from the services:

Manuel Boliva, Joseph Garcia and Frank Delgado of Decoto; Ernest Matthews of Niles; and Emile Pierce of Newark.

NEW WATER TANK PLANNED FOR NILES, DECOTO

Construction work for a new 200,000 storage tank that will add 10 to 15 pounds pressure to the water systems in Niles and Decoto will be started soon, E. F. Glassbrook, local manager of the public utilities, said this week.

Glassbrook stated that excavation for the installing of the tank on Mayhew Hill will start in the near future. Delivery of the wood stave tank has been promised for July. The new storage system, according to his statement, will increase the pressure because of its location at a high level. The present tank, of 100,000 gallon capacity, is placed beneath the ground, and is scheduled to be removed after the new installation.

The manager said that the public utilities is making other improvements in a $40,000 program, and that the work will proceed as conditions permit.

In Decoto, a six-inch main will be laid along the whole of Sixth street, and a four-inch line is planned for E street from Eighth to Tenth streets. In Niles, locations for new six-inch lines include all of Third street, First street from School street to Hillview Drive, and the new tract.

CHAMBER TO HOLD PUBLIC MEETING

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce should have all the earmarks of a true town hall meeting, according to Jack Parry, committee chairman, who said this week that his survey of Niles opinion shows that you-and-you-and-you are concerned about what is done to improve the parking situation on Main street.

He expects Supervisor Chester E. Stanley to attend the meeting as guest speaker.

Since the Junior Chamber first concerned itself with the idea of doing something to make it possible for more cars to park in the business district, several suggestions have come from merchants, theatre-goers, and shoppers.

Some believe that it would decrease parking difficulties in the area if lines were painted to allow for diagonal or parallel parking. There is the suggestion in other quarters that a two-hour parking limit would help. Many would like to see crosswalks painted at main intersections and in front of the bus depot.

So, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is turning over its next meeting to a public forum where interested parties can give opinions on the proposals. Speaking for the Chamber, Parry stated this week that the meeting will provide a good basis for drawing up suggestions to the county supervisor.

Sic RICHARD SIMAS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Simas of Olive street, Newark, wired his parents from South Carolina that he expects to be detached from his ship on Friday and will be discharged on June 15.

NEWS from Walt & Ed

Down in Oakland the other day a big crowd was gathered in front of an appliance store.

Our first thought was that they had turned loose washers, refrigerators, etc. But the sad thing is this: All those people had made deposits on future orders—and the firm had found it had money enough to retire, so they went on a "long vacation."

Don't make any more deposits with us on future delivery of appliances! Come see us some time.

FARM NEWS

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

PLAIN FACTS OF THE FOOD SHORTAGE

"Want and hunger stalk the earth. The people who are in the greatest need are far from the surplus supplies. But, even if the food in distant regions could be promptly sent to those who need it, there would still be famine. The plain fact is there is not enough food to feed the world."

In this manner B. H. Crocheron, director of Agricultural Extension Service, prefaces his analysis of the world food crisis in a booklet just published by the California State Farm Production Council.

"War has laid its bloody hand on almost all the earth. Many farmers and their families are dead from battle and from the chaos that follows in the wake of battles. Farms are burned. Farm livestock has been killed. Farm machinery has turned to junk. Roads and highways have been churned to rubble. Railroads are ruined. Rolling stock is gone."

In this brief bulletin the essential facts are set forth in a simple language and in graphic form, with the material condensed so that busy people may see the world as it is. To this extent it is an experiment in public education. Tables of statistics have been omitted and technical language has been avoided."

Crocheron says even America may not escape this gloomy picture. "We have no large reserves such as were stored in prewar years. During the war we were blessed by seasons of high production. Several years of bad weather might bring to fertile America a food shortage which would tax the resources of our soil. Even our rich land might feel the hand of want if our crops should fail in the next few years."

The extension director says farmers should grow all they can of those foodstuffs which can be stored and transported. We need not fear a surplus in staple food crops for some years to come. The world's wounds are deep.

The food needs of the world, the food supply, and the famine problem by areas presented in simple and direct language of the man on the street.

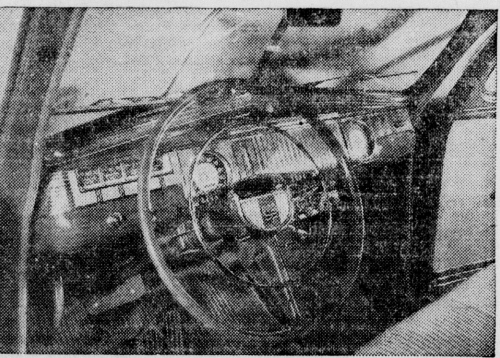

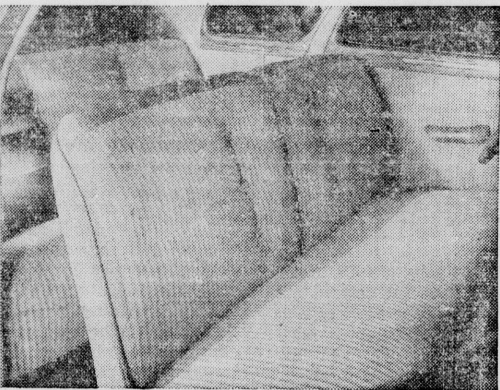

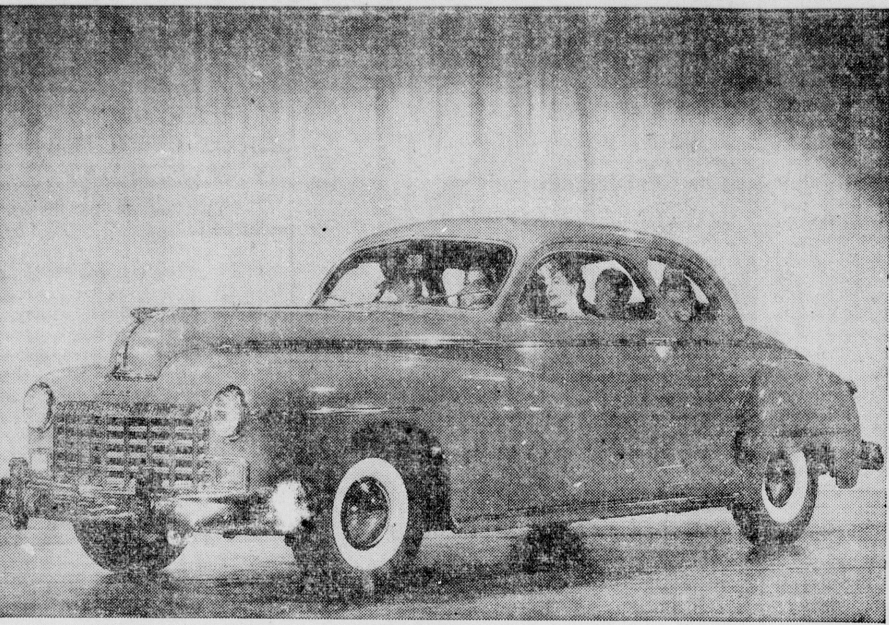

The bulletin, "What About the World's Food?" was published to give farmers a full understanding of the world food problem. A limited number of copies are available through the Agricultural Extension Service, Post Office building, Hayward.

PROSPECT FOR FEED GRAIN

Up-to-the-minute summary of the feed-grain supply is given by George Alcorn, specialist in marketing of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Until new-crop grain comes to market, farmers having to depend on shipped-in grain may have trouble in getting all they need.

New Dodge Custom Six Passenger Club Coupe

60 Design and Engineering Changes in the New Dodge

Standing out in the most distinguished company, the New Dodge is smartly styled from this massive new grille to its spacious trunk. Headlamps and parking lamps are more widely spaced in new blended fenders to define width of car.

Big car comfort is apparent throughout beautiful new interior of Six Passenger Club Coupe, with ample headroom in wide rear seat and big door for easy access. Upholstery comes in choice of rich broadcloth or deep pile fabric.

Starter push button on dash is feature of new instrument panel, with brighter non-glare lighting, easier-to-read instruments, new chrome trim. New Safety Signal Speedometer has improved warning colors on dial as well as on indicator arm

Some less demand for livestock feeds is expected by summer, particularly for mixed feed. Half of the mixed feed is used for feeding chickens, and farmers are buying fewer baby chicks and turkey poulters this spring.

Numbers of milk cows are down a little. Beef cattle, sheep, lambs, horses, and mules are fewer than last year. And feeding of hogs to lighter weights may at least partly offset the larger amount of hogs to be fed this year.

If farmers plant about as they planned early this spring and get average yields of corn, oats, barley and sorghums, the four feed grain crops will total about the same as last year. But with smaller carry-over of corn and barley, only partly offset by the larger carry-over of oats this year, total supplies of feed grain for next year will run a little less than for the past year.

Even with fewer livestock to feed, the economists say prospects are not too bright for plenty of feed in the coming year. The chief hope of feed grain users who depend on commercial supplies is that the growers of feed grains other than oats will either get bumper crops or will plant more than they said they would.

FARM NEWS SHORTS

It takes about a pound less feed to produce a dozen eggs than it did fifty years ago. Three average hens nowadays lay as many eggs as four average hens did fifty years ago, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The increase in the number of eggs the average hen lays in a year probably represents the most important poultry gain scored over the 50-year period. This increase is due primarily to the careful work of poultry breeders who have applied skillfully the knowledge gained through experience and through research in poultry genetics.

The purchase program for dried whole eggs with which to meet foreign commitments has been increased from 45,000,000 pounds to 57,000,000 pounds, according to an announcement made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

NILES GIRL SCOUTS GIVEN TWO FLAGS

"Under two flags" might well be the title of the little ceremony performed by the Niles Girl Scouts last week in the gardens of the Gorman home.

The girls had just been presented a gift of two flags by A. W. Gorman — a troop flag and an American flag, both of which inspired the ceremony whereby two Scouts, who had been unable to attend the investiture ceremony earlier in the spring, were given their awards. The girls were Geraldine Rebello and Caroline Pine.

Following the ceremony, which included the singing of taps by the girls, refreshments of cake and punch were served. Mrs. Gorman, the Scout leader, was assisted by Mrs. Henry Vervais, assistant leader.

POPPY DAY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE ON MAY 25

Poppy Day will be observed in Washington Township and throughout the United States on Saturday, May 25, Stella Benbow, president of Washington Township Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

Memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the dead of both world wars will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and cooperating organizations. Contributions received in exchange for the flowers will be used in the relief and rehabilitation work for disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

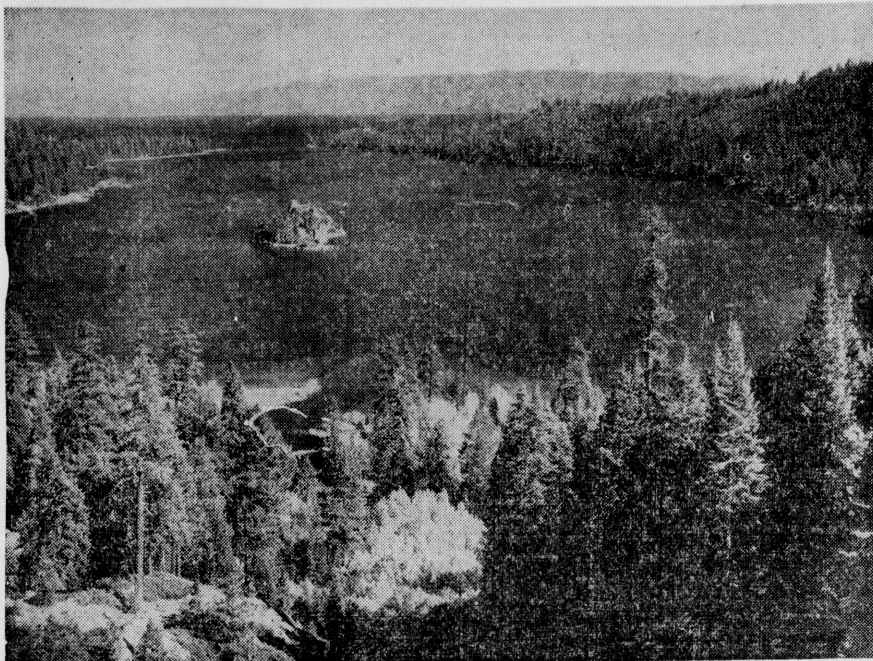

Extensive preparations for Poppy Day are being made by the Legion Auxiliary Unit under the direction of Rose Vieux, Poppy chairman. The volunteer workers are being organized into teams and assigned to locations in the various towns of the township. Residence and factory areas will also be covered to give everyone an opportunity to pay tribute to the war dead by wearing a memorial flower.

The poppies have been ordered from Livermore Veterans Hospital where they are being made by disabled veterans of both wars, working under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary. They are crepe paper replicas of the European wild poppy which bloomed on the battlefields of Belgium and France in both wars and which has become a world-wide symbol of remembrance of America's battle dead.

NEWARK STORE ANNOUNCES NEW PARTNERSHIP

Wes Sears who, with his wife, owns the variety and hardware store in Newark known as "Wes and Wanda's," announced this week that he is taking in his brother-in-law, Harry Houston, as a partner in the business, which will be known henceforth as "Sears and Houston."

Houston, recently discharged from the Army in which he served as Captain for five years, calls St. Louis, Mo., his home town, but on a visit to the Sears home in Newark he decided he liked the country around here and wanted to make his home here. A partnership in a business seemed to provide him with a good reason for doing so.

Houston, who is talented along artistic lines and interior decorating, is responsible for the really outstanding window paintings that have been attracting attention at the Newark store.

The two men, enthusiastic over the way the business has grown since its inception last December 15, have already made plans for tripling the size of the store, to enable them to handle a much larger and more varied stock.

Mrs. Houston, at present staying with her parents in Olympia, Wash., will come to Newark with the couple's ten-months-old son as soon as living quarters can be found for them.

Wanted: Action!

To anyone who even casually observes what goes on in Congress these days, it need not be pointed out that there probably never was a time when there was a greater need for decisive action in that legislative body, nor a time when it was more sadly lacking.

The American people have waited for many months for Congress to clean up a dozen or more vital issues—continuation of the draft, merging the armed forces, labor legislation, and others. But Congress, conscious of the fact that this is an election year, has stalled and delayed, apparently hesitant to take much action for fear of alienating votes at the November polls.

These tactics on the part of Congressmen up for election may produce just the opposite results from those intended when the voters express themselves six months from now. By trying to appease citizens on both sides of the important issues the lawmakers may find they have pleased neither. Thus many of them may be killing themselves off politically right now.

It is certainly high time for congressmen to pick up their courage, turn their eyes from the ballot box to the urgent issues now confronting them, act intelligently and decisively, and let the votes fall where they may. They'll be better off and so will the rest of the country.

Fascist Comeback?

The ghouls who dug up Benito Mussolini's body and left a note in the coffin praising him gave further evidence that fascism in Italy, just like Nazism in Germany, is by no means dead.

A year ago in late April the "sawdust Caesar" who had strutted and bullied his way through international and Italian domestic politics came to the inglorious end of the road—the firing squad. His final moments were not in keeping with the part he had played while he ruled Italy with an iron hand. The boastfulness and bravado were gone. He could only shout, "No, no, no," as the executioners leveled their rifles at him.

But in spite of his disgraceful end, Mussolini apparently is still a hero to some political elements in Italy. These elements will undoubtedly continue to work underground for the restoration of fascism in the Duce's former domain.

This situation cannot be viewed with indifference by the rest of the world. Italy, like Germany, could hardly be a serious threat to the peace for a great many years to come. But fascism is strong in Spain and has a toehold on the Western Hemisphere in Argentina, and if it can be revived in Italy it will gain further strength from which to feed upon.

Your 50-Cent Dollar

It may as well be said, bluntly, that the wholesale venture into Federal deficit financing, begun in 1933 and still with us in 1946, already has reduced the purchasing power of the dollar by a third. Today, averaging the costs of the main staples of life, it takes $1.35 to buy what $1 would buy in 1939. And the man who buys a house nowadays often finds his dollars worth no more than the four-bit pieces of 1939 or 1940.

But when Government spokesmen explain the housing shortage and housing inflation in terms of conditions resulting from the war-time emergency, they are either dodging the issue or ignoring plain history. For the housing shortage was serious long before the war! Reports the California Real Estate Association:

"From 1923 to 1928 (when government was actually reducing the national debt, and the philosophy of free private initiative prevailed in the nation's economy), 4,846,000 homes were built in America—an average of 807,000 a year. "In the corresponding years of the next decade, 1933 to 1938 (when the people yielded to the New Deal revelation of mounting deficit-spending and "we-planned-it-that-way" economies), only 1,223,000 homes were built in America—an average of but 203,833 a year!"

"History teaches us that no nation can indefinitely maintain itself on deficit financing," James Mussatti, general manager of the California State Chamber of Commerce, recently declared. "We must organize our colossal public debt and fund it in an orderly fashion, and balance the budget so that we may stop borrowing. We must not repudiate our debt either directly or by a monetary inflation. Let us utilize our capacity to produce as the surest means of working our way out from under the burden of debt and the threat of inflation."

Unless Uncle Sam is forced by public opinion to live, as millions of taxpaying citizens live, within his income, the day of the 50-cent dollar, when the real value of all life insurance policies, all savings accounts and all paychecks will be cut in half, is inevitable. Even today, it seems uncomfortably close!

Weeks and Weeks

It has long been an American custom to set aside a special week for the observance of this or that. But we hardly realized to what extent this custom has grown until we look over the list of "weeks" for the month of May.

There are no less than 18 of them. Here they are and we don't guarantee that we have them all: Baby Week, Music Week, Fishermen's Week, Family Week, Golf Week, Cotton Parade Week, Raisin Week, Foreign Trade Week, Carbonated Beverage Week, Price Control Week, Poetry Week, Housing Week, Buddy Week, Posture Week, Restaurant Week, Good-Poppy Week, First Aid Week, and the last but by no means least is Table Tennis Week.

Sort of makes you "week," doesn't it?

The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

The political career of many a man in public life has been ruined by a plain blunder. Sometimes the blunder is accidental—a slip of the tongue, say—and the ruinous result is not deserved.

But whatever effect the "purge" statement of Henry Wallace may have on his political future, it won't be the result of a chance mistake. He spoke very clearly, very deliberately, and apparently after having thought the matter through in accordance with his convictions.

He said the Democratic party should "purge" all senators and representatives who have opposed Administration leadership on fundamental issues. They should be read out of the party, declared Wallace, and barred from seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket. Moreover, he advised the same "purge" course for the Republican party. Representatives elected by the people should follow their respective party platforms without question or dissent, he contended, or be refused the right to go before the people to campaign for re-election.

There are three things very wrong in that doctrine—one that is false, one that is preposterous, and one that is dangerous!

1. It is false to assume that any member of Congress is under oath of fealty to a political party. What he has done is swear to "support and defend" the Constitution of the United States—not the Democratic party or the Republican party (nor the Communist party!).

2. It is preposterous to assume that the people of the United States would submit to having their candidates for Congress, or for other offices, hand-picked for them by Wallace or anyone else. And preposterous to assume that voters and candidates alike may not think and act in dissent from provisions of any political platform.

3. It is dangerous and alarming when men in high place in the American government bluntly advocate a political course that is hardly distinguishable from the "party line" brand of political dictation that is in operation in Soviet Russia and formerly was in operation in Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy.

Wallace is not alone in his views. If they were unique with him, his lone advocacy of them would hardly be important enough to warrant public discussion. But he isn't alone! He simply expressed a phase of totalitarian philosophy that has been seeping like poison, over more than a few years, into the stream of American thinking.

It is time to recognize this—to face it objectively. We see evidences of intolerant "party line" thinking, of intolerant "party line" regimentation of opinion, in every direction we look in America today!

Only recently, members of the California Farmers' Union were objects of a "purge" by the National Farmers' Union—solely because the California body held and ventured to express opinions that did not coincide with the stand of the national body on several matters.

It isn't pertinent to the topic of this column to go into detail on all the differences of opinion. It is significant to point out that here is but one of the many, many instances in American life where "party line" thinking is held up as an absolute requirement. Another instance of the credo: "Think and act as we think and act—or get out."

The California Farmers' Union was denounced by the National Farmers' Union for having an opinion on a purely California matter, among other things. The National group favors the 160-acre limitation on farms in the Central Valley Project area. The California body is opposed to the limitation. For this and other differences of opinion, the National Farmers' Union reasoned that a purge was in order.

No single quarrel, however, is of high importance. The very, very important thing is that all Americans, rural and urban, Democrats and Republicans, give serious attention to this totalitarian complex in the warp and woof of our political and economic life.

If it were only the vicious people among us, the downright subversive, who were promoting this trend, there would be far less cause for apprehension. The serious aspect is that sincere men, men of good will, have come gradually under the spell. Henry Wallace is a well-meaning man; so are many others in the same category of political philosophy—but their good intent doesn't make the road on which they want to lead America any less dark and perilous!

There is pressing need for American statesmanship of the people, by the people, and for the people—statesmanship that will reverse that trend and turn again to the basic freedoms of thought, speech and action which our forefathers fought to establish and secure for us for all time.

HIGH P.T.A. TO ENTERTAIN PHOEBE HEARST COUNCIL

The members of the P.T.A. of Washington Union High School will act as hostess at the Phoebe Hearst Council installation luncheon to be held at the local high school on May 15, according to an announcement made this week by the local unit.

Begonias grow 18 feet tall in Brazil.

HOME AND SCHOOL ARE REAL WEAPONS SAYS P.T.A. HEAD

"The Home and School are the two most powerful weapons to carry out and preserve the peace," stated Mrs. G. W. Luhr of Oakland, fifth vice-president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and guest speaker at the 19th Annual Convention of the Sixteenth District, C. C. P.T., held this week at Pittsburg.

Mrs. Luhr's topic was: "Our Home and School are the Architects of the World." She went on to enumerate the fundamentals or blueprints needed: character standards, good health, command of tools of learning, and a thorough understanding of life in a democracy. She also stressed the importance of cooperation between the home and the school, stating that a happy home life and successful school life promote good human relationship.

"Oh Well, What Can I Do?"

Most of us have made this remark in these trying days of shortages and strife.

America was originally a nation of indignant people. Had it not been so, our forefathers would never have come to this country. They would have been content to suffer oppression and bondage where they were.

But those original Americans ACTED to improve their lot.

Today, many do not take the trouble to inform themselves, nor even take the trouble to vote.

Existing Evils will be cured when the people get steamed up enough to vote.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

To the very nice lady who brought me that lovely bouquet of sweet peas last week, I want to say thank you. I wasn't here when you came and you didn't leave your name, so I don't know who you are, but I'm sure you're every bit as sweet as the flowers you brought.

HELP! HELP!

Will some of my readers help me out? (This will give me a chance to find out how many—or how few!—readers I have.) I need ideas.

You see, I received a telegram from a magazine in New York this week, asking me to send them immediately some "short, humorous prose." They add "rates are tops"—which naturally sets me all a-flutter.

As a matter of fact, I'm in such a flutter that my mind has gone absolutely blank—and I haven't one single idea! Here is opportunity actually banging at my door, and what do I do? Well, I sit here like Rodin's "Thinker," with nothing more going on in my brain than there is in that lifeless image!

If YOU, my dear reader, can think of any subject at all on which I could write about, will you let me know? You might get a dinner out of it, who knows! It's the American Legion Magazine, and the telegram says the material must be "geared to a male though not necessarily veteran audience."

Incidentally, does anyone have an American Legion Magazine? I would like to see one.

MAY REMINISCING

The month of May evokes pleasant reminiscences in the mind of 78-year-old F. J. Garcia, who was born in the Old Adobe and who celebrated his 53rd wedding anniversary this week.

"May, in the old days around here, was the time for picnics," he says. "Say, you should've been to some of the picnics we had around here. Why, up on the May place in Decoto, folks used to come from miles around—from San Jose, and San Leandro—in horses and buggies—to picnic. And the fun we used to have!—and the fights!

"Everybody'd bring his dog, and the first thing you know somebody was kicking somebody else's dog out of the way, and fists'd start flying right then!

"They'd fight over women in those days, too," he went on, his eyes twinkling. "In the old days you didn't dare ask a lady to dance unless you'd had an introduction to her. If you wanted to dance with a lady and you couldn't find anybody to introduce you, you'd get the manager to introduce you. But if you went up to a lady that you didn't know and asked her to dance, you were just askin' for trouble—and might come home with two black eyes that'd be given to you by her brother or husband or somebody."

That's why Mr. Garcia, who is one of the most ardent dancers in the Niles square dance group, prefers the dances today. "They're more friendly-like," he says. "If you see a lady at one of these dances around here, that you'd like to dance with, you just go right up and ask her. No monkeyin' around about it."

Did I say that Mr. Garcia was 78 years OLD? I meant to say he is 78 years YOUNG!

GREETINGS!

HANDY KITCHEN IDEAS
Kitchens with charming exteriors are all well and good, but it's really what's contained in cupboards and drawers that counts. Tools of the trade deserve better treatment than to be tossed helter-skelter, out of sight, behind closed doors. And what a lot of orderly arrangement means toward easing the Three-a-Day—Cooking and Serving and Cleaning up!

AN INSIDE STORY. Most-used cutlery, pots and pans, should be easily reached—forks and pancake turners, frying pans and saucepans near the range. A neat trick is the lining of drawers with a piece of linoleum to match floor or counters. Plan partitions to hold the cutlery and have the drawers joined so that the whole thing may be lifted out for easy cleaning.

If your kitchen has a tall be-shelved "kettle closet" into which you are forever digging through to the back for your favorite saucepan, have your handy hand pull out the shelves and fit the walls with dovetail stick pegs so that kettles and sieves may be hung in convenient array.

KITCHEN FILING SYSTEM. By means of thin board partitions placed vertically in cupboards, trays and cooking sheets may be filed away. Often the space between range and cabinets can be utilized in this way for tray storage. Install step-like shelves in the wasted upper spaces of your staple cupboard, to take care of spice cans and smaller packages.

If there's a built-in ironing board you no longer use, remove the board, paint the inside a gay color, and put in shelves to hold spice containers, jars of seasonings, catsup and meat sauce bottles.

OUT OF SIGHT. Towels and dish cloths take to cover on a drying rack which folds neatly back against the wall, under the sink or in an adjacent cupboard where ventilation can be provided. Perhaps it's possible even to install a small drying unit. Not that we believe in hiding everything behind closed doors, but some things are better out of sight, if not out of mind!

FLASH
FOR A DECORATIVE AND USEFUL KITCHEN PIECE, hang your collection of cooky cutters on a special board, cut of thin wood to fit that bare wall space, gaily painted, and provided with pegs or hooks to hold the cutters.

MRS. LORIN MOHN NEW PRESIDENT FOR HIGH P.T.A.

Next Tuesday, May 9, will see the installation of the following new officers for the Washington Union High School P.T.A.: president, Mrs. Lorin Mohn; first vice-president, Mrs. Catherine Parry; second vice-president, Miss Grace Knoles; secretary, Mrs. Irma Belding; treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Halliday; auditor, Mrs. Carl Mohn; historian, Miss Mary Van Winkle; delegates, Mrs. Reginald Calhoun and Mrs. Stella Benbow.

Shrimps, oysters, crabs, clams, and lobsters keep on growing until they die.

Sportsmen's News

Trout fishing prospects for the first of May opening are as follows: Butte, Glenn, Plumas and Lassen Counties—North Fork of the Feather River is perfect for trout fishing. It should be the number 1 spot for Plumas County fishermen. Best bets—Deer, Indian and Spanish Creeks, tributaries to the North Fork of the Feather River.

Butte County—Best bets: South, North and Middle Forks of the Feather River; Berry, French, Marble, Camp, Grizzly, Cascade, Lost Creeks, Fall River. Big and Little Chico.

Lake County—Streams heavily planted. Best bets: Bear, Rice, Thistle, Copper, Butte, Anderson, Kelsey, Spanish, Allen Bartlett, and Twin Valley Creeks. Pillsbury Lake should provide fair trolling.

Lassen-Modoc Counties—Best bets: Willow, Horse, Ash, Gold Run, Willow Creek at Belfast Crossing will provide large Loachs.

Madera County—Fair. Big, Miami, Lewis, Sand, Whiskey, Fish and Rock Creeks.

Modoc County—Best bets: West Valley, Ballard and Pine Creeks.

Monterey County—All streams in costal area at mid-summer level. Better than average catches expected for opening. All factors considered, this should be the best opening for Monterey County for several years.

Napa County—Streams low and clear. Should be fair opening.

Best bets: Napa River, Redwood, Day and Trout Creeks.

San Luis Obispo County—Las Tablas, Jack, Dover, Santa Rosa all have a few fish. Santa Rita will produce a few small trout at headwaters.

San Mateo County—Season opens May 30. Prospects poor. Few fish, all small.

Santa Clara County—Outlook is poor. Possibles: Stevens and Coyote reservoirs.

Shasta County—Warm weather raised streams heading in snow area too high for good May 1 opening. Lake fishing should be good.

Sonoma County—Outlook fair. Best bets: South fork Gaulala, Big Sulphur, Little Sulphur and East Austin.

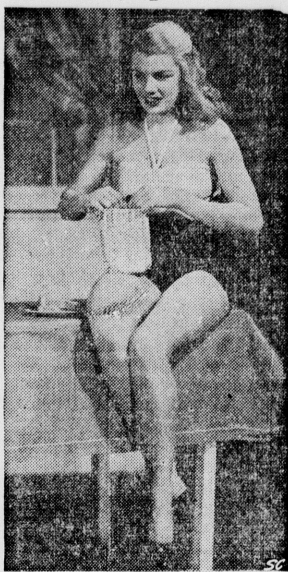

Tehama County—Battle and Mill Creeks high and roily. Antelope normal. North Elder low and clear. Fishing should be good.

Tulare County—Fair results should be obtained from: Small streams to yield small fish—Deer, Knights, Hunter, Basin, Clavoy, Jawbone and Corral Creeks. Larger streams providing medium and large fish—South Fork of Sanislaus, North Fork, Middle Fork and Main Tuolumne.

"Save Bread for Europe"

Supporting the "Save Bread for Europe" program, Patricia Vaniver, popular Walter Thornton pin-up model, protects the freshness of the loaf by carefully reclosing the waxed paper wrapper after preparing her "between-exercise" snack. According to the Agriculture Department, if each housewife would save only a slice of bread a day the national saving would be one million pounds of bread daily.

JOE BROWN PLAYS IN 'HARVEY' ON SATURDAY, MAY 11

"Harvey," the Brock Pemberton production of the Mary Chase Pulitzer Prize play, directed by Antoinette Perry, starring Joe E. Brown, supported by Marion Lorne and a group of New York players, makes a combination with the net result of a theatrical success rarely equalled.

"Harvey" will have one performance in the auditorium, San Jose, on Saturday evening, May 11. The story of the gentle Elwood P. Dowd, played by Joe E. Brown, in constant companionship with a six-foot-one-and-one-half inch white rabbit, has evoked the most spontaneous and delighted laughter the theater has heard in years, according to critics.

Following "Harvey," the Denny-Watrous management brings to San Jose Mae West in "Ring Me Twice Tonight," on May 23; and "Voice of the Turtle," direct from its long San Francisco and Los Angeles runs, on June 17.

EIGHTH GRADERS GO TO HIGH SCHOOL

Next year's high school won't have to ask embarrassing questions of the sophomores. They're going to know their way around, after today's tour of the campus and departments.

About 200 eighth grade students in the township will be taken through the campus and various departments this morning. In small groups, the visitors will be escorted by seniors to attend special demonstrations in the classrooms that will give a preview of high school courses of study. Portions of a movie that shows Washington Union High School students in their daily life will be shown, and there will be a morning assembly to round out the program or orientation.

Visitors will be seated first for the noonday lunch in the school cafeteria, and in the afternoon they will go to the auditorium to be entertained by the juniors.

According to the nutritionists, variety meats have not been given the consideration in the menu that they deserve. The fact that the home menu planner isn't as well acquainted with their possibilities as she might be may be one reason. The variety meats include liver, heart, sweetbreads, kidneys, brains, tongue and tripe. As the name implies, they may be prepared in a variety of attractive ways. The above table gives only a few of the many ideas which may be applied in making the most of variety meats.

WITH LOIS JUSTUS

Several weeks ago Frank Dias, local carpenter and veteran of World War I, decided to form a social club consisting of unmarried men and featuring the vets of the past war. Meetings are to be held once a month at the Dias residence. Clarence Telles says the "club" is progressing nicely and that a special Mother's Day dinner is being planned.

At the present, due to lack of space, no new members are being accepted. However, the club hopes to have a larger meeting place and clubhouse soon, thus enabling them to accept more of the boys into membership.

The Easter Bunny was on the job early Easter morning, April 21, at the San Jose Hospital when he hopped in and brought little Carol Ann Brayovich, six-pound daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brayovich. Mama Brayovich is the former Elva Santos of the Mission.

Little Carol arrived on her great-grandmother's, Mrs. Mary Dutra, 77th birthday. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Santos and cousin to Dougie Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. Jibson have as their guest for awhile her father, Mr. Buhon of Charleston, West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and family are now employed at the Mission Hereford Ranch working for Mrs. Margaret Bunting, the owner.

Sunday School for all ages at 10 a.m.

Morning worship at 11:15. Text: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts." Zech. 4:6. Sermon: "Endued with Power from On High."

What Christian workman wants is the power which comes immediately from God, the inspiration of the Divine Spirit; in truth, the same bestowal as that which the apostles were promised and afterwards received. "God's Spirit in our heart." Without that, our most heroic efforts will fail.
